Dear Iona Community,

Over the past week there have been many people gather for Old Boy and College events. These events bring together various members of our vast and wide community and remind us of the values that underpin Iona.

OLD BOYS SHERMAN LUNCH
Friday saw approximately 300 Old Boys and friends attend the Sherman Lunch at Gambaros near Suncorp Stadium with Fr Sherman O.M.I. and Wayne Bennett as guests of honour. Wayne Bennett shared on the ways that he has formed the young people in his care and how they have responded to adversity and success. Fr Sherman thanked the Old Boys for their continued contribution to the College and wider society and he also thanked Wayne for his ability to help others discover the dignity of their humanity. I thank Saranga and his team for this great Old Boys event.

MOTHERS’ HIGH TEA
Last Sunday I was the sole male representative of the College at the Mothers’ High Tea. Again, over 300 ladies gathered at Cloudland in the Valley for this significant community building event. The committee led by Mrs Kelly Hoar-Guthrie worked so hard for the success of the afternoon and the many smiles on the day were testament to the joy experienced by everyone. I never thought I would ever see the day where my mother was dancing to a Justin Timberlake song. We heard from Ms Deborah Morandin as our guest speaker and she encouraged everyone to reach beyond their self-prescribed limits for the benefit of themselves and others. Her message was well received. Thanks to everyone who contributed to this wonderful afternoon.

FOOTLOOSE FEVER GRIPS IONA
By the time you receive this newsletter we will be in the grip of ‘Footloose Fever’ with the opening night performance due to start in just a few short hours. A special dress rehearsal performance was held on Monday night for people with disabilities and it was indeed a very special night for everyone there. Some of our senior leaders volunteered to support the night as ushers, welcomers and guides. Their generosity was deeply appreciated. We received the following email which I share with you all.

“Occasionally we experience such joy that you fear your heart will burst. Tonight was one such occasion. My son was simply mesmerised and transfixed by the dancing and the music. It was a fabulous evening! He is still beaming with a massive smile.”

Thank you to all the cast, crew and band. They will receive accolades and ovations throughout the next week. And rightly so.

With sell out shows now guaranteed, it has been an outstanding response from the community which the cast and crew appreciate greatly. I commend everyone involved for all of the effort needed to create such a wonderful experience.

PARTICIPATION IN CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES
During the past week, so many of our boys have been involved in the co-curricular activities offered by the College. These range from water polo, bands, ensembles, choirs, rugby, football, chess, community service and volunteering. These activities offer a very real way for the boys to engage with the College and their contributions are very much appreciated. I am particularly pleased to see great moments of sportsmanship, while at the same time know that there is room for improvement from some. We hosted and welcomed St Edmund’s College from Ipswich last weekend and this weekend we host Marist College Ashgrove in what will be a very challenging fixture. Thanks to all the families, staff and students involved in these great days.

Iona College seeks to provide a dynamic Catholic learning community within the Oblate spirit, so that its members are faith-filled, resilient, courageous, well-balanced and prepared to make a difference.
INTRODUCING BELMONT - 4153

Belmont is approximately 12km south-east of the central business district of Brisbane.

The local indigenous people hunted and camped within the creeks and hills of Belmont, both before and after white settlement of the area. A corroboree ground existed on the banks of Bulimba Creek and mineral springs near Mount Petrie were a popular camping spot for the Aboriginal people.

Andrew Petrie had reported that fine timber existed in the area. The Hoop Pine brought timber cutters to the area in the 1850s and by the 1860s and 1870s the cleared land near the creeks and the rich soils from the cleared forests were used to grow sugar cane. As sugar production declined in southern Queensland, farmers moved to growing pineapples, bananas and small crops including tomatoes, potatoes and grapes. Dairies and fodder farms were also located in the area.

Originally the Belmont Shire was larger than it is today and this would explain why Belmont Private Hospital and Belmont State School are now located in Carindale.

From 1912-1926 Belmont Shire ran a tram from Norman Park Train Station. This linked Belmont with Brisbane City, however due to high costs, this service eventually ceased.

Perhaps Belmont’s most significant landmark is the Belmont Shooting Complex which is home to many different associations including: Brisbane Rifle Club, Archery Club, Metropolitan Pistol Club, Brisbane Pistol Club, Brisbane Rifle Club, Queensland Rifle Association, Queensland Small Bore Rifle Association, Wynnum Manly Pigeon Club, Brisbane Sporting Clays Association, and Sporting Shooter’s Association Brisbane Branch.

It also houses the Queensland Racing Pigeon Association which does seem to be tempting fate given the significant amount of guns and talented shooters within the area. I can only assume that the live pigeons are not released at this location! There are many talented shooters who prepare here for many of the local, state, national and world championships in their many disciplines.

The Belmont Shooting Complex played a significant role at the 1982 Commonwealth Games in Brisbane and will again be utilised for the 2018 Commonwealth Games at the Gold Coast. This was also the site of the 2011 World Long Range Championships.

Mount Petrie is also located in the suburb of Bulimba and the bushlands near Mount Petrie are an important habitat for koala, wallaby, and echidna colonies, although I imagine they do not venture too close to the rifle range. We can see Mount Petrie from the Chapel of the College which greatly adds to the beauty of the area.

Iona has welcomed students from Belmont over many years and with new residential developments in the area, complementing large semi-rural properties, we look forward to many more students into the future. Students living in Belmont attend a large range of schools including St Oliver Plunkett and Belmont State School. We are very glad Belmont is a part of the Iona story.

Next week’s suburb is Wynnum 4178.

Take Care and God Bless

IN TERM 2 OUR SOCIAL JUSTICE FOCUS IS ROSIES

ROSIES SLEEPOUT EXPERIENCE
Iona is offering interested students in Years 10-12 (only) the opportunity to identify with the homeless in Brisbane by conducting an optional sleep out experience in Oblate Hall. The Rosies Sleep out Experience will take place on Saturday 4 June starting at 6pm.

Students will need to bring a pillow, sleeping bag and some cardboard boxes. They can sleep in Oblate Hall or outside. Refreshments like milo and biscuits will be provided. On Sunday 5 June they can attend the 7.30am mass and can get picked up at 8.30am. The permission form is at student reception, this needs to be handed in with a $5 donation for Rosies.

Let me know if you have any questions—ryans@iona.qld.edu.au

Mrs Samantha Ryan
Social Justice Coordinator

NO DONATION IS TOO SMALL!
Rosies continues to be appreciative of the support extended through Iona College. As the cold weather will be with us soon we are seeking donations of products which will help to warm our Friends on the Street. Any supplies of the following would be greatly appreciated.

- Milo
- biscuits
- UHT milk
- sugar
- coffee
- Cup a Soup (no cans please)
- styrofoam cups
- serviettes

These items can be handed in through your Primary class, at Tutor Group or to Student Reception.

No donation is too small.
Thank you!

CONTINUOUS ONLINE REPORTING AND END OF SEMESTER REPORTS

Earlier this year I presented at a P & F Meeting and I wrote a follow up article for our newsletter on the changes to our reporting system. As parents would now be aware, Iona’s new system involves continuous online reporting whereby teachers post student results via the portal within two working weeks of task submission. By going to the portal, parents can find a grade and, in most cases, written feedback for each task. This means parents and students now have timely feedback that identifies growth areas and presents feedback which allows action to be taken immediately so that subsequent assessment can show improvement.

Parents should also be aware that this will mean our end of semester report format will also change. As feedback is now provided on every task, end of semester reports will no longer contain a written comment for every subject. Instead, reports will be a summary document containing academic grades that highlight the progress of their son in each subject. The reports will still include a written pastoral comment reflecting a student’s holistic involvement across a range of important aspects of College life.

It is anticipated that this year semester reports will be available on the College portal from Thursday 14 July (the staff professional development week). I will include a further update in the newsletter closer to the time.

Parents who have questions around reporting are encouraged to contact me via email or telephone.

NEW SENIOR SECONDARY SYSTEM

Earlier this term, I also wrote about the new senior secondary system that will see Queensland move from an OP (Overall Position) to an ATAR (Australian Tertiary Admissions Rank) as the mechanism for university entrance. Parents of students in Year 9, the first cohort to benefit, will see their ATAR results at the end of this year. For Years 11 and 12 students, the ATAR system will be rolled out over the next two years.

Reports under the new system will no longer include a written pastoral comment reflecting the whole child. Instead, reports will be a summary document reflecting the student’s academic performance. The reports will still include a written pastoral comment reflecting a student’s holistic involvement across a range of important aspects of College life.

Obviously a change of this significance and magnitude takes quite some time to implement and the Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) is currently working with schools to ensure that schools across the state are ready for the new processes and procedures. At the moment, the QCAA is:

- redeveloping senior syllabuses aligned to the Australian Curriculum
- trialling external assessments in particular subjects at selected schools
- trialling processes for improving the quality and comparability of school-based assessment.

Iona is involved in a number of these initiatives. We are a trial school for Mathematics B and we are involved in trialling assessment in Biology and Mathematics B. We also have staff who have been selected to be either markers, lead markers or assessors in English, Mathematics B and Drama. Other staff have also been attending subject workshops and information sessions provided by the QCAA.

On Friday, in Fr Michael’s absence, I will be Iona’s representative at the next round of QCAA Principals’ Information Sessions. The last one provided us with a great deal of information and guidance and the QCAA is committed to ensuring this communication continues. I will feedback information to our community as it becomes available.

In the meantime, if parents would like to look more closely at the new system proposals, and the implications for their sons, click on the following link to view an information sheet provided by the QCAA. A range of other information can be found on the QCAA website.

FAITH AND MISSION

HOW MUCH DOES THE POPE GET PAID?

We are all aware of Jesus’ words to St Peter in this beautiful quote, “I tell you that you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of Hell will not overcome it.” Matthew 16:18.

Give or take very short periods of time, many men have followed St Peter and Pope Francis is now the 266th pontiff. Throughout history, popes have served for various periods of time, ranging from the original St Peter who reigned for approximately 35 years (the longest calculated papal tenure), down to Pope Urban VII who reigned for exactly 13 calendar days in 1590 (the shortest papal tenure in history).

As can be seen through the history books, all 266 popes have been very different, many have had varying lengths and a number have made significant contributions to the Church and the world generally.

Contemporary pontiffs carry the following official titles: Successor of the Prince of the Apostles; Vicar of Jesus Christ; Bishop of Rome; Primate of Italy; Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Roman Province; Sovereign of Vatican City State; Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church; and Servant of the Servants of God.

The Vatican is a sovereign State and as such, Pope Francis is on the same level as any international Head of State or monarch. The Holy See is certainly a significant international political and diplomatic influence, having 84 embassies across the world. Forbes magazine rates the current Holy Father as the fourth most influential person in the world immediately behind the Presidents of Russia, USA and China. Courageously, Pope Francis sees ‘power as service’ and uses this approach as a personal premise. President Obama believes that Pope Francis is a very significant person who provides the whole world with a moral compass.

With a definite concern for the poor and needy, Pope Francis has openly said that he would like to see ‘a Church that is poor and one that is for the poor’. While these words are simple and inspiring, they also heralded a major transition away from a traditional Church that has been viewed as amassing wealth (to conduct its work), to one that is focussed on the needs of the poor.

In terms of a salary, contemporary pontiffs have not received a salary during their reign, but they are traditionally offered an amount after their death that is purely ‘token’ for their work as pope. For example, Pope John Paul II was offered a total amount equivalent to $200.00 for nearly 27 years as the Holy Roman Pontiff.

As can be seen from the above, Pope Francis is more concerned with managing the universal Church (not an easy task) and doing the work of Christ (drawing people to the Father) and showing mercy towards the poor (in political and practical ways), rather than focussing on personal material gain. For him, his role is part of his identity as a person. His personal motto is Miserando Atque Eligendo (One who shows mercy and is chosen).

Please spare a prayer for this authentic Servant of God.

Dean of Faith and Mission

Mothers High Tea and Sherman Lunch

In what was the culmination to an extremely busy week, both the Sherman Lunch and Mothers’ High Tea were very successful community events held last weekend.

On Friday afternoon, almost 300 old boys, parents and friends gathered for lunch and to listen to guest speaker, legendary rugby league coach, Wayne Bennett.

With more than a touch of humour, Bennett spoke about the challenges and successes in his career but more importantly he stressed the importance of a strong work ethic and positive values as holistic in the development of young people; a message that resonated clearly with Iona guests.

I wish to thank all who attended and generously supported the fund-raising arm of the event and to again acclaim the organising committee; Mr Saranga De Alwis, Mr John Plath and the Old Boys Committee.

The Mothers’ High Tea was also a sell out event and provided the opportunity for the mothers and friends of the school to celebrate and support the College community.

Again, wonderful feedback has been received affirming the hospitality and entertainment of the event. I express my thanks to those who attended and supported the many raffles and auctions which were held and to the hard-working committee which for many weeks now have planned the success of the afternoon. A special thanks to Mrs Gaynor Begley and Mrs Meghan Leis who did so much to support the committee.

OLD BOYS DAY AND RED LACES

Iona old boys are invited to celebrate on Saturday 11th June for our annual reunion. Former students are invited to support the football games during the afternoon where all players will be wearing red laces in their boots to support Rosies.

Father Michael will lead mass in the afternoon with drinks and dinner being served from 5pm in the IPAC foyer. Tickets, which include the cost of drinks and dinner, are $50 and bookings can be made through the Iona College website and updates will be available on the Iona Old Boys Facebook page.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Best wishes to a large number of students and staff involved in many activities in the week ahead.

For our chess, football and rugby teams, a challenging weekend looms with fixtures this week against Marist College Ashgrove.

Congratulations to the cast and crew of Footloose who perform five shows over the next few days.

Mrs Corkeron and ten students depart for Perth on Friday to join Mazenod College in celebrating their 50th anniversary.

Finally, over thirty students will participate in the Wynnum Manly Public Speaking Eisteddfod next Wednesday under the of guidance of Ms Costa.

Mr Damian Courtney
Dean of Community
On Monday evening the cast and crew of Footloose presented an open dress-rehearsal to over 100 special guests in Iona’s first Disability Performance. Members of our community with disabilities were invited to the free event, along with their families. They were encouraged to sing, vocalise and engage with the production as much as possible. It was a humbling and proud moment for The Footloose Team who danced into the foyer at the end of the show to chat with the audience. Many students involved reflected on the event the following day, saying that it was one of the best things they have ever done. Thank you to Fiona Lawton (Iona parent) for her instigation and organization of this very special occasion.

On Thursday night, Footloose will open to a sold-out audience. Students from Iona College, Moreton Bay College, San Sisto College and Lourdes Hill College will take to the stage. The five performances will be a culmination of thousands of hours of effort from parents, students and staff. Teams have been working in the areas of: art, media, promotion, back stage, front of house, technical production, band and stage production. On behalf of the Iona community, I would like to wish everyone involved the very best for an energetic and engaging season. As we say in the theatre, chookas!

TRADES THAT HAVE SKILLS SHORTAGES
Interested in doing an apprenticeship or traineeship but not sure which one to do? Start your search with a look at the jobs on the National Skills Needs List. This list itemises over sixty traditional trades that are identified as experiencing a national skills shortage. Download a brochure about the National Skills Needs List at http://www.australianapprenticeships.gov.au/publications/about-national-skills-needs-list. The advantages of selecting a job from this list are that:
- you may be eligible to attract employer incentives which may help you get an apprenticeship or traineeship,
- you will be entering an occupation that is in demand.

You can use the occupational information from myfuture (http://www.mymap.aus.edu.au), Job Outlook (http://joboutlook.gov.au/) or QTIS Queensland (http://qtis.training.qld.gov.au/) - click on ‘Apprenticeships’ from the left hand menu) to research the jobs on the list.

ONLINE RESOURCES FOR YEAR 12 PARENTS
Transitioning from high school to university can be a challenging journey for students and their parents. Several universities provide resources to help students and their children through the transition. Some examples are:

PLAY YOUR ROLE 2016
As we move into Round 4 of AIC sport against Marist College Ashgrove, all within our community are reminded of our "Think - Act - Play" policy - please be mindful of the following:
THINK before you speak
ACT with respect and humility
PLAY in the spirit of the game
Ashgrove is the No.1 sporting school in the AIC competition and are a challenge in the winter season. Their rugby, football and chess teams are typically formidable. All teams need to work together in matches this weekend. Deny them space in defence, maintain possession in attack, limit mistakes and make the best of both individual and team opportunities.

Last weekend against St Edmund’s saw strong results based on skill and the gaining of points or goals when on offer. We need to refocus and continue with determination this weekend.

SPORTS PHOTOS - RUGBY AND FOOTBALL
Year 9 - Open Rugby and Football team photos will be taken at Iona this Saturday 21 May. Please meet your team in the photo area at the rugby and football oval at 45 minutes before your game.
