Dear Iona Community,

The past week has once again seen a great variety of activities and opportunities and I hope that this short newsletter can share some of them with you.

SENIOR RUGBY AND WYNNUM RUGBY

Last Friday evening our Senior Rugby team assisted in training the Under 8s and 9s at Wynnum Rugby. This was a wonderful opportunity to share the love of Rugby while at the same time lending a hand in an act of community service. It is hoped that this initiative continues a positive relationship between our two communities.

YEAR 5 AND 6 DISCO

Later that Friday evening a disco was held at Carina PCYC (Police and Citizens Youth Club) for Years 5 and 6 students from various primary schools. I particularly commend the volunteer staff and senior leaders on their support of the evening. There was significant excitement, some very original dance moves and the tally of dances was reaching ever higher levels. The boys were again a credit to their school and families and this was mentioned by the venue supervisors in attendance.

CANCELLATION OF AIC SPORT

Last weekend's severe weather warning caused the cancellation of all AIC sport. I was particularly keen that we heed the travel warning and was glad that the message via the many outlets (Twitter, Facebook, email and website) were heeded. Even though the rain was welcomed, the safety of all athletes and spectators from all schools was the highest priority.

PARENTS AND FRIENDS ASSOCIATION

Monday night saw another successful P & F Meeting. I realise that not every parent can make it, but for those that do, a significant amount is achieved. It is clearly obvious that the vast majority of parents support the values of the school and this is indeed necessary and appreciated. All parents are always welcome to these meetings.

ARCHDIOCESAN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION VALIDATION

On behalf of the Oblate and wider College community, I would like to sincerely thank Ms Angela Simpson on collating and preparing the College’s presentation of the Religious Curriculum and religious life of the College. This procedure was necessary in order for the Archdiocese of Brisbane to validate that our programmes and procedures align with the Archdiocese. On Wednesday Ms Simpson, Mr Wilden, Mrs Elkington and myself presented the College programme and I am pleased to say that we have received full validation with many commendations and also recommendations. When we receive the final report, I would be happy to share it with the wider community.

QCS (QUEENSLAND CORE SKILLS) TEST

This week our OP (Overall Position) students took part in practice QCS tests. These tests form part of the requirements in achieving a tertiary placement via the OP pathway. The practice of these skills assist students to better prepare for the real QCS in late Term 3. I thank everyone involved in supporting the students on their chosen academic pathway.

WORLD SCHOOL SUPPORT OFFICERS DAY (NON-TEACHERS)

Our College is blessed with both a teaching staff and a non-teaching staff. Wednesday saw a joint initiative between the Queensland Independent Education Union and the College in celebrating the contributions of non-teaching staff in the school. Our large and complex community heavily relies on the skills, care and expertise of these staff in some of the following areas; Oblate chaplains, nursing, counselling, office staff, library staff, special education, learning support staff, grounds, maintenance, secretaries, canteen staff, IPAC staff, Uniform Shop, Careers, Vocational Education Training staff, pastoral and spiritual and Gap Year students. These staff members make a significant and valuable contribution to our community and I am glad that both the Union and ourselves found a way to celebrate that contribution.

OLD BOYS DAY AND RED SHOE LACE DAY FOR ROSIES

All members of the Iona College community are invited to join with the Old Boys to celebrate the biggest sporting programme of the year. Old Boys’ Day also doubles as Rosies Support Day and our new initiative of red shoelaces will hopefully be here for years to come as a way of demonstrating support for Rosies. I encourage everyone to make the effort to attend and support this wonderful celebration of Chess, Rugby and Football.
IMPORTANT NOTIFICATION REGARDING STUDENT DROP-OFF AND PICK-UPS
There are regular notifications within the newsletter regarding the accepted practices of student pick-up and drop-off each day. Where student and public safety are concerned, the College must have a clear focus on protection. There are a number of drivers who flout both the College’s expectations as well as the law itself (speed, parking etc). The police and local Council have issued numerous infringement notices and if these lead to a safer environment, the College supports that wholeheartedly. Please remember that Patience Prevents Patients. Please keep an eye on newsletter notifications and be mindful of common decency and road etiquette.

INTRODUCING SHERWOOD 4075
It may come as a surprise to know that Sherwood is a part of the Iona family, but it is true and it gives me great joy to share some of its story with you. Our family from Sherwood includes an old boy from my year at school (1987) and our Sherwood student is a third generation Ionian. Sherwood is approximately 8km south west of Brisbane (but still just on the southside) and was a farming area in the 19th century. It was named after a property, Sherwood Forest in 1862, presumably after Sherwood Forest (of Robin Hood fame) in Nottinghamshire, England.
Sherwood State School opened in 1867 (originally as West Oxley State School) and is one of the oldest schools in the state, with many heritage buildings still remaining. The floods of 2011 and 2013 had a significant impact but the resilience of the local community came through and recovery was strong.

One of the most significant features of Sherwood is the heritage listed Sherwood Arboretum. An arboretum is a collection of trees and botanical gardens established at least partly for scientific study. The Sherwood Arboretum covers an area of 15 hectares, containing approximately 1,100 trees from about 300 species. The arboretum comprises parkland, artificial freshwater wetland and has an extensive frontage to the Brisbane River.

In keeping with an international trend toward the application of scientific methods to forestry, and over concern for the depleting stock of Queensland's forests and commercial timbers, Sherwood Arboretum was established at the urging of a number of community interest groups, the Local Government Authorities and the Queensland Government. No suitable land was initially identified within Brisbane Shire. In 1925, the Greater Brisbane Scheme saw the amalgamation of local councils and shires to establish the City of Brisbane. Land previously purchased by Sherwood Shire Council was considered suitable, and a proposal to dedicate land for arboretum purposes was strongly supported by the outgoing Sherwood Shire Council.

Symbolically, Sherwood Arboretum was officially opened on World Forestry Day, 21 March 1925, with a planting of 72 Queensland kauri (Agathis robusta) along a central promenade named Sir Matthew Nathan Avenue in honour of the Queensland Governor. It was initially known as Sherwood Forest Park. Ninety years later in 2015, students from Sherwood State School replicated the actions of students from 1925 in planting more species of trees in this park. With Moreton Bay Figs present in the Park, I guess that a part of our Moreton Bay is there in Sherwood.

The park’s vistas, river frontage, subtropical mature trees and mature plantings of Queensland pines, native figs and specimens of rare Queensland native plums in a setting of grassed open spaces, open lagoons and shrubbery borderlines, demonstrate an established sub-tropical garden character and are well appreciated by the public. Indeed, Sherwood Arboretum is listed as the third or fourth most visited park in Brisbane.

It has also been named as one of the best climbing tree precincts for kids in Queensland and the tree pictured here is testament to that.

Follow the link to view a flyover clip from YouTube clips of the Arboretum and wetlands. It is well worth a look or even a drive over to visit.

Even though it would be fair to say that not many Sherwood residents in the future may travel all that way (32.5km by car and over an hour by train) to Iona, we are sincerely happy to include Sherwood into Iona’s family of suburbs in Brisbane.

Take Care and God Bless

Laces can be purchased at the uniform shop for $3.50 or from students who will be selling them at lunch time.
A car wash has also been organised to raise funds for Rosies and will be held on the road between the chapel and the quadrangle/Long Block between 8.00am and 11.00am.
Black and White supporters gear can also be purchased on the day from a merchandise tent which will be situated beside the rugby canteen.

CREATIVITY AT IONA

“Education is not the learning of facts, but the training of the mind to think”  Albert Einstein

Global corporations and businesses value creativity and depend on creative employees in order to survive and thrive and thus individuals who know how to think outside the box are in high demand. If students leave school without knowing how to continuously create and innovate, they will be under-prepared for the challenges of society and the workforce (nea.org).

Many people consider themselves not to be creative. However, when thinking about creativity, it is important not to give it a too narrow construct. Creativity is not merely the domain of the creative arts subjects such as drama, music and visual art but is fostered in all kinds of fields, from science and mathematics to literature and politics.

Neuroscience research has shown that every individual has creative capabilities. Pablo Picasso argued, “All children are born artists; the problem is to remain an artist as we grow up.” The research of internationally renowned educational theorist Sir Ken Robinson supports this premise that as children grow they lose the ability to think and act creatively. In fact, studies show that by age 10 many children have lost up to 70% of their capacity for creativity and that adults only use a fraction of their creative potential. This poses quite a challenge for educational institutions to ensure their curriculum offers flexibility, risk taking and scope for experimentation in order that creativity continues to be cultivated.

Creative intelligence is found across the curriculum in every faculty at Iona. In addition to our suite of creative arts subjects, namely Visual Art, Drama and Music, some ways we are fostering creative thought in the classroom include:

- Science classes which incorporate extended experimental investigations allowing students to collaborate, question, experiment and innovate.
- Mathematics classes focusing on inquiry-oriented mathematics instruction. This includes problem-solving and problem-posing tasks and activities which can assist students to develop more creative approaches to mathematics.
- Open ended questions and research tasks in the various humanities subjects that allow students to collaboratively explore a subject, evaluate different perspectives and present findings in a medium that’s relevant and engaging to them.
- Commerce classes where students collaboratively design, produce and market a business product.
- Industrial design classes (IDT) where students create designed solutions for products, services and environments.
- Digital technologies classes (ICT) where students are presented with opportunities to analyse problems and design, implement and evaluate a range of digital solutions, such as database-driven websites.
- Robotics units where students are given the time, space and purpose to tinker with robots and work collaboratively to construct knowledge and solve open ended problems.
- Years 5 and 6 Enrichment where students select areas of interest from robotics, art and design, science, engineering, team building and technology and engage in collaborative, problem-solving activities.
- Specialist Enrichment Mathematics and Science programmes catering for those students who have a talent and passion for mathematics and science. Within an inquiry based environment, students develop their mathematical and scientific skills through participation in open ended investigations and through the application of their knowledge to unfamiliar situations.
- Our Marine Studies course which requires students to examine marine issues and problems, gather their own data from marine environments and work in teams to investigate a range of marine environments and propose solutions to protect them.
- The incorporation of a plethora of technology tools such as blogs, infographics, digital story telling tools, video and audio tools and even games that ignite interactive and imaginative elements in student thinking.
- Our targeted enrichment and enhancement programme designed to extend students who have shown passion for learning in various areas.

Creativity helps students to become independent, innovative contributors to society; it encourages higher order thinking and critical questioning skills; it promotes confidence and resilience. Further, creativity is social, helping the development of cognitive and social skills. At Iona we value creativity just as much as literacy and numeracy and hence within our curriculum we are endeavouring to incorporate opportunities for students to question, take risks, collaborate and create every day.

SPEECH & COMMUNICATION

WYNNUM MANLY JUNIOR EISTEDDFOD 2016

Each year Iona Speech and Communication students are given the opportunity to enter the Wynnum Manly Junior Eisteddfod to test their developing skills in front of a large live audience.

This year’s Wynnum Eisteddfod ran over ten days from 19-28 May, with most speech and communication students electing to enter at least one section. Competitors enter from a wide range of schools and studios from across Brisbane.

The students entered a broad range of sections. Those who participated achieved excellent outcomes. While the primary purpose for speech and communication students is to gain experience, placement is always very pleasant. Every Iona speech and communication student who entered a section gained a placement or commendation, with some sections being dominated by Iona. This was particularly commendable given that this was a first eisteddfod experience for many.

Results were as follows:

- Set Poem Boys 11 Years
  1st - Anthony Kim; Highly Commended - Isaac Stone
  2nd - Sam Bracegirdle
  3rd - Connor Kinsella
- Set Poem Boys 12 Years

  3rd - Timothy Little and Nicholas Stevenson
- Humorous Verse 13 and 14 Years
  Highly Commended - Timothy Little and Nicholas Stevenson

A very special mention must go to Nathaniel Kennedy, whose Solo Improvisation on the third day of the eisteddfod made a great impression. His performance was so entertaining he was ultimately awarded with the Daphne Raymond Award for Best Comic Performance. This selection was made from every age range and section across the entire eisteddfod. Congratulations Nathaniel and all Speech and Communication students who represented Iona College so successfully.

Would you like your son to become an effective communicator? Iona offers Speech and Communication lessons for all students. Parents can choose for their sons to attend either individual or small group lessons during school hours. Students usually sit for exams based upon their level of skill and can also elect to compete in a wide variety of competitions, such as the Wynnum Eisteddfod. For information concerning lessons, please contact me at the College or email luckgearry@iona.qld.edu.au.

SAINT COLUMBA AND IONA COLLEGE

Columba was born in 521 in County Donegal, Ireland and on both sides he was of royal lineage. He began his schooling at several monastic schools, with many of his teachers later becoming Saints themselves, including St Finian, St Keiran, and St Canice. He became steeped in Irish history and literature and was considered a talented poet. Having later been ordained a priest, Columba spent the next fifteen years going around Ireland preaching and founding monasteries such as Derry, Durrow and Kells.

In 563 he left Ireland with twelve companions in a small boat for Iona, an island off South-West Scotland which had been given to him to develop a monastery. Columba was then forty-two years of age and he remained there for the rest of his life, returning to Ireland occasionally. His early biographers, including his successor at Iona, said that it was his love of Christ, his dedication to learning and his missionary zeal which actually took him to Scotland to begin the new monastery.

Columba retained some form of authority over the monasteries he had founded in Ireland and he visited these from time to time. As mediator at different councils, he was instrumental in defending the social position of bards, (advocating the education of the laity), as a social activist he secured the exemption of women from all military service, and as an environmentalist he took great interest in the many species of birds and animals he encountered.

When not engaged on missionary or diplomatic expeditions, Columba's base continued to be at Iona, where he prayed and communed with God. When not engaged on missionary or diplomatic expeditions, Columba's base continued to be at Iona, where he prayed and communed with God.

It was from the monastery on the Isle of Iona that Columba trained the minds and hearts of monks so they could then go out into the world to do good work for God. It is wonderful to think that our fine college is named after 'Iona', the significant early Scottish centre for learning and missionary zeal. This fits perfectly with the Oblate missionary charism of St Eugene.

Columba died in the Iona Abbey church on 9 June 597 aged 76.

PRAYER OF ST COLUMBA

Lord Jesus, Be a bright flame before me, a guiding star above me, a smooth path below me, a kindly shepherd behind me: today, tonight, and forever. Amen

Dean of Faith and Mission

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

PARENTS PLEASE READ THIS TRAFFIC MESSAGE

The preferred and safest avenue for picking up and dropping off your sons is on College property, as per the article below (NOTE TO PARENTS RE DROP OFF/PICK UP PROCEDURES), which has been advertised and repeated in the newsletter over the past two weeks.

The gravel car park on the right hand side of main drive is a good option and a safe one. Recently some dangerous practices have emerged on North Road which have caused great concern.

Please do NOT park in loading zones or any NO parking zone on North Road. Some are designated by a yellow line painted on the road near the gutter. Please try to remain on the Iona College side of North Road. This will help decrease the conflict between cars and boys when they are crossing the road to be picked up.

Any time we can reduce the number of boys crossing North Road is a good safety outcome. A couple of minutes assisting in improving safety at pick up or drop off times is a great big tick for our community.

NOTE TO PARENTS RE DROP OFF/PICK UP PROCEDURES

Of late the boys have been reminded about the drop off and pick up procedures at Iona. Could parents please take note:

1. When using the drop off / pick up zone between Davine and McCarthy ovals, please drive as far as possible toward the Sandy Camp Road gates. This helps decrease the inconvenience and traffic problems in Bulgin Avenue. We do try to be a "good" neighbour to the residents in that street. Stopping near the pool or the curve near the primary classrooms causes problems.

2. The small car park near the Daly Art Precinct is NOT a drop off / pick up zone. Traffic in that area MORNING OR AFTERNOON creates conflict between students walking up the path to or from the bus turn-around, a very dangerous situation.

Please use the car park / drop off area to the right of the MAIN DRIVE by exiting to the right at the first roundabout on Main Drive. Not under IPAC please. A path from that area has been built to facilitate students walking onto college grounds in a safe manner. With so much traffic morning and afternoon your assistance is appreciated. With so many boys moving at those times of the day we worry a great deal about their safety and parents share that concern.

Please contact me at the college if you have any queries. Thanks for your care and concern.

Mr Bob George
Head of Student Administration

Also planned are cultural and historical activities including a visit to Liverpool, the birthplace of the Beatles, a London West End musical as well as visiting some of the Northern France battlefields from WW1. We will also be visiting the island of Iona which of course holds great significance for our College and community. It is planned that we will be taking a Tour Band of approximately fifty students.

THANK YOU IONA P & F
A final thank you to our P & F Committee for their generous donation of $1000 to assist our Music Supporters Group in their continued support of our students and department.

ROSIES SLEEP OUT
Facing imminent thunderstorms and wild weather, 52 Iona students from grades 10, 11 and 12, participated in the annual Rosies Sleep Out Experience on Saturday 4 June. This event is in its third year and involvement in this initiative is always growing. The boys’ experienced a night ‘sleeping rough’ in Oblate Hall to identify with homeless people and the conditions that they endure every single night. Fr John David and several grade 12 students shared stories about their experiences with the Rosies Street Outreach program and encouraged younger students to go on Outreaches themselves. Many thanks go out to Mr Dimento for preparing the liturgy, Mrs Ryan, Mr Qureshi, Mr Holmes, Mr McAuliffe, and all the staff behind the scenes, for making this wonderful experience a possibility.

PLAY YOUR ROLE 2016

Only our Chess teams played last weekend, winning three of the seven matches against St Peters. This weekend sees the Villanova round bring AIC winter competition to an end. It is Old Boys’ Day, Rosies Awareness Round and Sponsors Day - essentially a “community” day that brings together many areas of the College. Hopefully, all involved will enjoy the derby clash against our neighbours.

This weekend, it is important for all to “play your role”. All spectators, players and coaches are reminded to “think before you speak”, “act with respect and humility” and “play in the spirit of the game”. These concepts will uphold the values, reputation and spirit of Iona College.

OLD BOYS - (Their Role)
The current contribution by Iona Old Boys to Iona Sport is not to be underestimated. Forty-seven former students coached or managed teams throughout the summer and winter, a significant amount of valuable assistance that is appreciated. Iona would not be able to field the number of teams each Saturday without the support of Old Boys, both on and off the field, guiding our young men in their endeavours.

It is also worthy to note that a number of Old Boys take the skills and values that they acquired at Iona into club and representative sport upon graduating. Whether at national levels or social levels, it is indeed wonderful to hear of Old Boys still playing and enjoying their sport.
