

IONA COLLEGE

Parent Code of Conduct

1. About this Code of Conduct

St Eugene de Mazenod OMI, through the Oblate charism invited us all to “Learn who we are in the eyes of God”. This invitation hopefully leads to a discovery of a God-given dignity that has great responsibilities and hopes to promote healthy and life-giving relationships. At Iona College respectful relationships are fundamental to our culture.

As a Catholic college in the Oblate tradition, we believe that all human beings are created in the image and likeness of God. As a result of that understanding we believe that each of us has a fundamental human dignity. As a school, that human dignity needs to be recognised, modelled and taught through the way we interact with one another. College policies and procedures in part exist to help us ensure that we treat each other with respect and dignity.

In our mission to form young people who are inspired to grow into their potential to live, learn, lead and serve we rely on a collaboration and partnership with students’ families.

To ensure this collaboration and partnership, this Code of Conduct outlines the College’s expectations for a students’ parents, step-parents, foster parents, guardians, grandparents, extended family members such as uncles and aunts and carers (for ease of reference collectively referred to as parents in this Code of Conduct). It is understood that, from time-to-time parents may invite relatives, friends, supporters or other persons to be present at College events and in such circumstances are responsible to ensure that the person or persons act in a manner which is consistent with the College standards.

In developing this Code, the College recognises that parents, are the primary educators of and, ultimately want the best for their children. The College recognises that when parents engage positively in their children’s education that children are more likely to perform better. However, the College also expects parents to recognise that it must ultimately balance the interests of all of the College’s stakeholders (including not only students and parents, but also the College’s staff which includes volunteers, coaches, managers, conductors and others) and their right to a safe working environment.

This Code does not attempt to provide a detailed and exhaustive list of what to do in every aspect of a parent’s interactions with the College and the College community. Instead, it sets out general expectations. As such, this Code is intended to be practical guide to appropriate behaviours for parents in order to successfully form our young people into authentic, grounded, respectful adults.

2. Summary

In summary, the five key expectations of parents expanded on in the following pages are as follows:

1 Support the educational ethos and values of the College.

Parents are expected to visibly support the educational ethos and values of the College, and role model responsible and safe behaviours for their children and others in the community to learn from.

2 Behave respectfully towards members of our community.

Parents should raise genuine complaints directly with the College in an appropriate, constructive and respectful forum.

Parents can support the College and be positive role models by doing, for example, the following:

- 1 Comply with the College's codes of conduct, directions, policies, procedures, rules and regulations, and ensure their children do the same.
- 2 Respect (and show to their children that they respect) that the College is inclusive and welcomes students from a variety of backgrounds, and with different needs.

- 8 Raise complaints directly with the College, and in a timely manner which allows the College to address the complaint.
- 9 Keep the College informed about a child's needs (including but not limited to their behavioural, educational, personal, and physical or mental health needs). This includes providing updated medical information, family developments and other like information as it becomes available. However, parents need to also appreciate that while the College will take into account any new information, and comply with its legal obligations, the College cannot necessarily accommodate every need.
- 10 Keep the College informed about a child's parenting arrangements, including any court orders that may be in place. However, parents should not involve the College in parenting disputes, or expect the College to act as the go-between for parents.
- 11 Recognise the damage that gossip can do within a College community, and avoid unconstructive commentary (including criticism, uninformed rumour or speculation) with other parents or students, including on social media.

Parents are expected to be a role model for responsible and safe behaviours. This includes ensuring the health and safety of all members of our College community (including staff, students, parents and alumni) and the wider community. Parents are expected to ensure that other individuals involved in their child's life, such as other relatives and carers, also comply with this Code.

4. Behave respectfully towards members of our community

The College expects that parents will behave respectfully at all times towards other members of the College community. This applies not only to words used, but also to tone and body language, and similar expectations are embedded in the College's codes of conduct for staff and students.

"Respect" is intentionally a broad concept. The following is a non-exhaustive list of behaviours that are not respectful:

- 1 Rude or insulting behaviour, including passive-aggressive, intimidating or derogatory language.
- 2 Bullying, intimidation, discrimination, sexual harassment, victimisation and child abuse. Please note that in addition to being a breach of this Code, such behaviour may also be unlawful and College staff may be legally required to report to relevant authorities.
- 3 Actual or threatened aggression (verbal or non-verbal) or violence.
- 4 Behaviour that causes a risk to a person's health, safety and wellbeing.
- 5 Defamatory or disrespectful comments.
- 6 Gossip, rumour, and innuendo.
- 7 Inappropriately raising one's voice, or using offensive language or actions, while communicating.

- 8 Age-inappropriate language when communicating with or about children (including rude and disrespectful language).
- 9 Vexatious complaints.

5. Use technology and social media appropriately

The expectations set out in this Code can also apply to the way a parent uses technology and behaves online.

For example, parents should:

- 1 Respect a staff member's professional and personal boundaries, by not using their personal online presence to raise College matters (or otherwise engage in disrespectful behaviour).
- 2 Not take photos, videos or other recordings of a staff member or parent without their consent, or of a student without their parent's consent, and not publish information (including personal details, contact information, images and recordings) concerning a staff member, parent, student or other member of the College community online without express consent.
- 3 Avoid publishing information which may bring the College (or any of its staff, students, parents and other members of the College community) into disrepute. This may include an image or recording which shows a student in College uniform, or a member of the College community at the College or at a College activity or event, behaving inappropriately.
- 4 Not communicate with students from another family outside of the College, including by email or on social media, without prior consent from that student's parent(s).
- 5 Not discuss confidential or sensitive College matters, including in relation to complaints about a particular staff member or student, online.
- 6 Obtain express permission to use the College's name or insignia in the title of any online website, forum or group, or printed or online publication. In addition, no suggestion should be made that any such platform or material is operated or sanctioned by the College.

6. Be a responsible visitor and participant

Parents must respect the College's risk-management procedures when visiting the College. Parents should immediately proceed to Reception upon arrival to sign in, unless there are other prior arrangements in place, and should only enter a classroom or other student environment when invited to do so by a staff member. This requirement does not apply when visiting the College only to:

- 1 Attend an activity or event to which all members of the College community have been invited.
- 2 Visit the College uniform shop.
- 3 Visit the College Chapel for morning Mass.

Parents must comply with all traffic rules and any College traffic management system in place. This includes adhering to applicable speed limits, observing all traffic signs, limiting the use of car horns (unless indicating imminent danger), and parking appropriately and safely.

Parents must also comply with any government issued health orders or directions in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. This includes adhering to vaccination, social distancing and face mask requirements.

7. Raise complaints appropriately and productively

The College is committed to the education and wellbeing of each student. It is therefore critical that parents are able to raise genuine complaints they may have about such matters in an appropriate, constructive and respectful forum.

IONA COLLEGE

Parent Code of Conduct

Parents with complaints need to raise them appropriately with the College as soon as possible. In general, following the principles outlined below:

- 1 Parents should take care with volume, tone and vocabulary when communicating with another family's child.
- 2 Parents should not communicate with another student about an issue concerning their own child. In particular, parents should refrain from any attempt to discipline a student who is not their child, unless they are attempting to restrain a student from causing a risk to themselves or others.
- 3 Parents should raise their complaint with their child's teacher, coach, manager or conductor in the first instance. More serious concerns or complaints, including where a parent is dissatisfied with a teacher's response to a complaint, may be raised with the appropriate member of the College (as set out in the policy).
- 4 Where possible parents should arrange a face-to-face meeting to discuss their complaint, rather than relying on email or other written communications.
- 5 Parents should clearly identify their complaint, and what they would practically like to see happen. If there is more than one issue or problem, parents should write a list so that they are adequately prepared and then decide which issues or problems matter most.
- 6 Parents should appreciate that while the College is committed to dealing with their complaint in a timely manner, it will not always be practicable for staff to provide an immediate acknowledgement or response (particularly where a concern or complaint is sent by email).
- 7 Parents should respect that the College employs qualified educators and other professionals who are well-trained in making academic, disciplinary, co-curricular, pastoral and wellbeing decisions every day. Please understand that while the College will always take into account the interests of the parent's child, the College must ultimately make decisions that take into account the interests of all students (and others who may be affected by the College's decisions).
- 8 Parents should recognise that just as the College will seek to respect each student's privacy, the College will also respect the privacy of other members of the College community. This means there are limits to what information the College will share with a parent when issues arise. This does not mean that the College is not taking an issue or situation seriously, or hiding information from a parent.
- 9 If a parent is not satisfied with the College's response to a complaint, a College policy may provide a parent with a right to request an internal review of the College's decision. Alternatively, an external body, court or tribunal may be able to deal with the issue. The College respects a parent's right to invoke any formal complaint-resolution procedures which may exist. However, parents who refuse to engage in constructive processes that may resolve their complaint, or who choose to publicly air their complaints about the College (and especially about staff or students) on social media, are likely to find the enrolment of their child/ren may be cancelled.

8. Consequences for breach of this code

The Rector or Principal will have absolute discretion for deciding how to best respond to concerns about a parent's compliance with the Code.

Where the Rector or Principal considers that a parent has breached this Code, the Rector or Principal may implement one or more of the following consequences (and not necessarily in any particular order):

- 1 A request that the relevant conduct immediately cease.
- 2 A written warning.
- 3 A parent (or another relevant person) being banned from the College grounds, either for a particular period of time or permanently.
- 4 A parent (or another relevant person) being excluded from College activities or events.
- 5 A requirement that a parent (or another relevant person) only communicate with a nominated College representative.
- 6 Termination of the enrolment of a parent's child/(ren).

Staff and volunteers are empowered to take steps to protect their own health, safety and wellbeing. If they feel that a parent is being inappropriate, they are encouraged to indicate this and ask that it stop. If it does not, or if a staff member feels that a parent's actions are posing a risk to their or someone else's health and wellbeing, they are empowered to remove themselves from the situation. This may include immediately concluding a meeting or phone call, or requiring that a parent immediately leave the College grounds (or a College activity or event).
